

NEW YORK
nymag.com

Salon De Shyou

120 Thompson St., New York, NY, 10012

nr. Prince St.

212-334-4353

An experience NOT to be missed!!!

My visit to the salon was as enjoyable as it was practical and desperately needed. Shyou personally attends each client with friendly but serious energetic dedication and a long reference list of professional experience. Shyou has appeared in many fashion magazine spreads such as Vogue and Cosmo for her talents. Her ability to repair weatherworn and city smog damaged skin is the closest thing to the fountain of youth any woman (or man) in the Manhattan area have at their disposal. It's no wonder some regular clients make special trips to the city just to spend an hour and a half with Shyou. However, if you are interested in recreational care, which leaves a short-term result, then this treatment is not for you (although you are given an exquisite body massage during the facial). This recommendation should only be regarded by those who pay special attention to having healthy, resilient, lasting skin, keep in mind it is a dermatological procedure to restore and maintain the skin's natural radiance. This place is one of the best, kept secrets of Soho, which celebrities and healthy skin care enthusiasts alike are eager to keep to themselves.